This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

OF THE

STATE OF ILLINOIS,

At a special session of the 36th General Assembly of the State of Illinois, begun and held in the city of Springfield on the 23d day of July, A. D. 1890, at the hour of 12 o'clock noon,

Mr. White, of Whiteside, called the House to order, and moved that, in the absence, by death, of the Hon. James H. Miller, of Stark, Speaker of the House of Representatives of the 36th General Assembly, the Hon. E. A. Doolittle, of Greene county, be elected as temporary Speaker,

And the motion prevailed.

Whereupon Mr. Doolittle took the Speaker's chair and called the House to order, pursuant to the Governor's proclamation.

Prayer was then offered by the chaplain.

After which the following proclamation by the Governor was read:

SPRINGFIELD, June 13, A. D., 1890.

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States has passed "An act to provide for celebrating the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus by holding an international exhibition of arts, industries, manufactures and the products of the soil, mine and sea, in the city of Chicago, in the State of Illinois," said act being duly approved April 25, 1890, and said exhibition being designated in said act as the "World's Columbian Exposition;" and,

WHEREAS, Owing to the limited time provided in said act to prepare and inaugurate said World's Columbian Exposition, it is important that action on the part of the State of Illinois, in preparing for said World's Columbian Exposition, be taken at the earliest practicable date; and,

WHEREAS, It is considered by the Governor that an extraordinary occasion has arisen for the convening of the General Assembly in special session; now therefore, I, Joseph W. Fifer, Governor of the State of Illinois, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested by the Constitution, do by this public proclamation convene the General Assembly of the State of Illinois in special session, and hereby designate Wednesday, the 23d day of July, A. D. 1890, at 12 o'clock, noon, as the day upon which the General Assembly shall meet, and I do hereby summon each and every member of said General Assembly to convene in the State Capitol, at the city of Springfield, on the day and at the hour aforesaid, to consider and legislate upon the following subjects only:

First—The submission to the electors of the State, at the November election, A. D. 1890, of a proposition to amend the State Constitution, so as to authorize the city of Chicago to increase its bonded indebtedness to an extent not exceeding five million ($5,000,000) dollars, the proceeds thereof to be used in aid of said World's Columbian Exposition, authorized by said act of Congress.

Second—The passage of such legislation as may be necessary to authorize the use or occupancy of any public ground, park or area for the location of said World's Columbian Exposition as may now or hereafter belong to or be under the control of the State of Illinois, the city of Chicago, or the South Park commissioners, the West Chicago Park commissioners and the Lincoln Park commissioners of the city of Chicago, or either of said park commissioners respectively, and to authorize the issuance of park bonds for the extension or improvement of such public grounds for the use or in aid of said World's Columbian Exposition.

Third—To vest the said city of Chicago with the right, power and authority of eminent domain, to be exercised for purposes in behalf of said World's Columbian Exposition; such power and authority to cease on and after May 1, A. D. 1894.

Fourth—To make appropriation to meet the expenses of the special session of the General Assembly convened by this proclamation.

In witness whereof, I hereto set my hand, and cause the great seal of State to be affixed.

[SEAL.] Done at Springfield the day and year first above written.

Mr. Prince made the point of order that the resolution, being on a different subject, was not admissable as a substitute,

And the chairman sustained the point of order.

Mr. Phillips, of St. Clair county, moved that this House do now adjourn,

And the following gentlemen demanded the call of the roll on the motion of Mr. Phillips:

Messrs. Crafts, Stoskopf, McElligott, Mahoney, Martin.

Whereupon, Mr. Paddock placed in nomination for Speaker of the House of Representatives of the 36th General Assembly the Hon. Wm. G. Cochran, of Moultrie county.

Mr. Morris placed in nomination for the same position the Hon. Clayton E. Crafts, of Cook county.

Mr. Speaker Cochran then addressed the House as follows:

Gentlemen of the 36th General Assembly of the State of Illinois:

You have kindly bestowed upon me the highest political honor of my life, for which I cannot find language to thank you as I now desire to do. It is very gratifying to me and my friends, and you will pardon me if I take some pride in the compliment of being chosen to this honorable position before the end of my first term in the legislature; and I know that you will do so when it is understood that as a poor boy, after three years' service in the army I then first began to seek an education under very difficult circumstances, laboring upon the farm by day and seeking for knowledge by nights, for which toil and striving it has become the privilege of you gentlemen to reward me by choosing me to fill the chair heretofore occupied by good and true men, and more recently by our esteemed friend and eminent statesman, whom it has pleased God to remove from the halls of legislation on earth to a place in the courts above, where he can behold order in perfection and enjoy peace without alloy.

Gentlemen, our beloved state is fertile in resources, and peopled with four million brave and happy inhabitants. Some of her sons, born in due time in obscurity and reared amid poverty, have risen to the highest pinnacle of human greatness, and she now holds within her bosom the sacred remains of some who, by the exercise of the better principles taught in the school of necessity, were beloved by all the people. Some yet linger upon the shores of time who have guarded the interests of the State with a jealous eye, and kept the good ship steered toward the shore of prosperity. To us, as the representatives of the people, has been committed the work of assisting in putting our house in order to receive the people of the world and their products. Congress has selected our State and the Queen City of the west as the place of entertaining the visitors to the World's Fair, and we are called upon to make it possible for the enterprising people of Chicago to prepare the place of entertainment. Certain legal formalities must be observed, and I hope that we will see to it that our part in the great undertaking is performed with correctness and dispatch. Let us, with one accord, proceed to our duties in such a manner that when done the world will say: "Well done, good and faithful servants of the people." I cannot hope to succeed in this responsible position without the assistance and co-operation of each member of this House, and I sincerely hope that I may so conduct myself as to command the respect and confidence of all of you. It shall be my desire to treat all with the respect due to the honorable position which you occupy, regardless of political opinion. As speaker, I hope to speak to all, and by the exercise of Christian patience and consideration for each other, we may be able to perform our labors with as little expense to the State as possible. There may be differences of opinion as to the matters proposed in aid of the Columbian Exposition, but I hope there will be no serious contentions, but that noble contention, or rather emulation, as to who best work and best agree about the business about which we are engaged. If it were possible, I would be glad that we should end our labors in six days, so that on the seventh we might rest from our labors.

Gentlemen, again I thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me, and I now await the further pleasure of the House.

Mr. Fisher offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the call of the roll of the elective officers of the House be now made.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

The roll was accordingly called by the first assistant clerk, and the following officers answered to their names:

First assistant clerk, George T. Buckingham.

First assistant doorkeeper, John A. Barr.

Second assistant doorkeeper, Henry C. Henry.

Third assistant doorkeeper, Wm. Watson.

Postmaster, Loraine J. Pitkin.

Assistant postmaster, Miss Mabel Allen.

Mr. Baker, of Cook, presented the following:

To the Speaker and Members of the 36th General Assembly of the State of Illinois:

GENTLEMEN: Owing to the position I now hold in the National House of Representatives, I am unable to be present at the convening of the special session on July 23. I therefore take this occasion to extend to the members my thanks for their kindness and honors shown me in the past, and ask that my resignation as Clerk of the House of Representatives of the 36th General Assembly may be accepted. Very respectfully,

JOHN A. REEVE.

And the resignation was accepted.

Mr. Baker, of Cook, offered the following resolution, and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, It appears to this House that there is a vacancy in the office of Clerk of this House; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the present First Assistant Clerk, George T. Buckingham, be chosen to the office of Clerk, and that R. J. Dickinson be chosen First Assistant Clerk, Frank Allen, Second Assistant Clerk, and W. J. Allen Third Assistant Clerk, and that all engrossing clerks be discharged except the Chief Engrossing Clerk; and that John A. Barr be promoted to the office of Doorkeeper, Henry C. Henry, First Assistant Doorkeeper, and William A. Watson, Second Assistant Doorkeeper.

The motion prevailed, and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Sparks, of Madison, offered the following resolution, and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That all appointive clerks and the janitors of the last regular session are discharged, and that when any committees of the House shall be in session the Clerk of the House shall detail some one of his assistants to act for such committee; and that the Speaker shall appoint one private secretary, one press messenger, four policemen, ten pages and ten janitors, and that these shall constitute the entire list of appointive officers of the House.

Which motion prevailed, and the resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

Which motion prevailed, and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Pike, of McLean, introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the Clerk of the House be directed to inform the Senate that the House is organized and ready to proceed to business.

Which motion prevailed, and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Prince, of Knox, introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, That a joint committee of three on the part of the House, and two on the part of the Senate, be appointed to wait on the Governor, and inform him that the two houses are now in session pursuant to proclamation, and ready to receive any communication he may see fit to make.

Which motion prevailed, and the resolution was adopted.

Whereupon the Speaker appointed as such committee, Messrs. Prince, Oglevee and Hurst.

At the hour of 2:10 o'clock P. M., Mr. Paddock moved that the House do now take a recess to the hour of 4:30 o'clock P. M.

The motion prevailed, and the House adjourned to meet again at 4:30 o'clock P. M.

4:30 O'CLOCK P. M.

At the hour of 4:30 o'clock P. M. the House met pursuant to adjournment,

The Speaker in the chair.

A message from the Senate, by Mr. Watson, its Secretary:

MR. SPEAKER: I am instructed to inform the House of Representatives that a majority of the members of the Senate have assembled, pursuant to the proclamation of the Governor, convening a special session of the General Assembly, and that the Senate is now ready for the transaction of the business of the special session with the following named officers: Secretary of the Senate, L. F. Watson; Sergeant-at-arms, Stephen Maddock; Chaplain, Rev. A. A. Burleigh; Janitor, Archie Ward, the services of all the other employés of the 36th General Assembly having been dispensed with.

By order of the Senate, July, 23, 1890.

L. F. WATSON, Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Prince, the chairman of the committee appointed to wait upon the Governor, reported that they had waited upon His Excellency, the Governor, and that he would communicate with the House in writing.

A message from the Governor, by Mr. H. G. Reeves, his private secretary:

Mr. Speaker: I am directed by the Governor to lay before the House of Representatives the following communication:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, JULY, 23, 1890.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

You have assembled for the purpose of considering matters relating to the World's Columbian Exposition, to be held in the city of Chicago in 1893.

With unity of action, this exposition can be made the greatest the world has yet known, and its location by Congress at the great metropolis of our State, casts upon that city and the people of the commonwealth of Illinois a grave responsibility, a responsibility that I sometimes fear is not fully realized. Into the hands of our people has been committed in a large measure the success of this great enterprise. Illinois cannot afford to have it fail through any lack of interest on her part.

Chicago and the State will have the world's attention for the next three years and more, and should the fair prove a failure, by reason of any fault on their part, the fact will be quickly noted, not only by our own fellow countrymen but all the civilized nations of the world, and in that event the great International Exposition instead of being a benefit will prove an incalculable injury not only to the city of Chicago but to the entire State.

The people of Illinois have in the past proven equal to every emergency, and they will, I feel sure, prove equal to this, and adopt a wise, liberal and patriotic policy respecting the exposition; a policy that will justify the wisdom of Congress in locating it within our borders.

It was believed that without this special session to enact needed legislation the management would be crippled in their preparations and the success of the enterprise greatly endangered.

It is made necessary by the act of Congress providing for the exposition that the sum of ten million dollars be raised to be used in aid of the enterprise. About five millions of this amount has already been provided for by subscription, and it is believed that but little, if any more, can be raised by this means. The city of Chicago has, through its municipal authorities expressed a willingness to raise by general taxation the remaining five millions of the amount required to be raised by said act of Congress; but the indebtedness of the city being now up to the constitutional limit, and there being no funds in the treasury that can be appropriated to the purpose, it becomes necessary therefore to adopt an amendment to the constitution of the State, authorizing said municipality to increase its bonded indebtedness in the sum of $5,000,000, and also authorizing the proceeds of said bonds to be used for the benefit of said exposition. A resolution submitting an amendment of this character to the electors of the State for adoption or rejection is one of the subjects included in the call, under which you have assembled, and which will, I doubt not receive your careful and favorable consideration. If the enterprising and patriotic citizens of the city of Chicago desire to tax themselves in order to raise the five millions yet to be provided for, the rest of the State should not, and I believe will not, object.

The selection of a suitable site for the fair has been a question of great difficulty, and at the time the call convening you was issued, it was not known what location would be finally agreed upon. That part of the call relating to the site was, therefore, made general and it will be seen that you are empowered to pass such legislation as may be necessary to authorize the use of any public ground, park or area for the location of the exposition that may belong to or be under the control of the state of Illinois, the city of Chicago, or any one of the several boards of park commissioners of said city.

Just what legislation will be needed on this subject I am not fully advised any more than this, that it will no doubt become necessary for you to pass an act authorizing the use of some of the public grounds in the city of Chicago as a site for the fair. You should, it would seem, be willing to do what can be done in this direction to aid the management of the exposition, having always in view, of course, a due and careful regard for the rights of the general public.

It may or may not become necessary for the city of Chicago to exercise the power of eminent domain in aid of the exposition; and as to the necessity of this much will depend upon the site that is ultimately agreed upon. It might be well for you to vest the city of Chicago with this power as it may become necessary to exercise it in preparing for the exposition.

The expenses of this special session must be provided for, and you will, of course, make a necessary appropriation for that purpose.

In conclusion, gentlemen, I feel confident you will be able to complete your labors at an early day, and that you will do honor to our State by the passage of wise measures that will aid the exposition and promote the public welfare.

JOSEPH W. FIFER, Governor.

Mr. McElligott moved that the message be divided, and that the portion relating to appropriations be referred to committee on appropriations; that portion relating to site, be referred to committee on municipal corporations, and that the remainder of the communication be referred to committee on judiciary.

The motion prevailed, and message was so referred.

Mr. Reynolds offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the members of this Assembly be entitled to the same seats in the General Assembly room as at the last General Assembly, and that the newly elected members be at liberty to choose seats among the vacant chairs.

The motion prevailed, and the resolution was adopted.

The Speaker announced the following appointments:

Pages—Pearl Conant, Frank Bohannan, William Buckley, William Rodgers, John Clements, Henry McAllister.

Janitors—Charles Kirby, Munroe Oglesby, A. H. Blakewell.

Mr. Meyer, of Cook, offered the following resolution, and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the newly elected members of this Assembly be assigned to such standing committees as in the discretion of the Speaker shall be deemed best.

Which motion prevailed, and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Wells introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint a committee of three to prepare a memorial and accompanying resolutions expressive of the sympathy of this House over the death of its late Speaker, James H. Miller.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

Pursuant thereto, the Speaker appointed Hon. A. W. Wells, of Adams, Hon. Peter McCall, of Bureau, and Hon. D. H. Paddock, of Kankakee, as such committee.

The roll was then called for the introduction of bills.

None being presented, at the hour of 5 o'clock P. M.,

Mr. Buchanan, of Cook, moved that the House do now adjourn, to meet again at 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

The motion prevailed, and the House adjourned, to meet at 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1890—10 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M., pursuant to adjournment, The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by the chaplain.

The journal of yesterday was read, and ordered to stand approved.

And the motion prevailed, and the report was adopted.

A communication from the directory of the World's Columbian Exposition, which is as follows:

To the Hon. Speaker of the House of Representatives of the State of Illinois:

The board of directors of the World's Columbian Exposition, desiring to respond in a frank and proper spirit to the resolution adopted by your honorable body, submit in answer thereto the following:

They have not at hand, nor is it attainable at once, the knowledge and experience needful in the classification and management, to determine in advance the details involved in exhibiting the "arts, industries, manufactures and products of the soil, mine and sea," which will be represented by 40,000 or 50,000 exhibitors.

That the work is colossal in character, all will admit; that as it develops it must be comprehended, mastered and wisely managed is beyond question.

For the fuller information of the legislature, it is deemed appropriate to submit a brief statement of the situation. This would seem to be proper in order to set forth clearly the relation the State of Illinois, the city of Chicago and this board of directors sustain to the "World's Columbian Exposition."

By the act of Congress, approved April 29, 1890, provision was made for fitly commemorating the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by an exposition "of the resources of the United States, their development, and the progress of the civilization of the world." The act declares that "such exhibition should be of national and international character."

Provision was made in the act for the appointment by the President of commissioners from the several states and territories, upon the nomination of the Governors thereof, and in addition, eight commissioners-at-large, said appointees to constitute the "World's Columbian Commission."

That commission has been duly appointed, and is by the act of Congress clothed with certain powers and charged with certain duties with reference to the inauguration and conduct of the exposition.

The question of locating the Exposition devolved upon Congress. It was an honor for which several states and the Nation's capital contested. Illinois petitioned to have the Exhibition located in Chicago. Certain conditions were to be complied with and obligations assumed in order to secure the favorable consideration of Congress. As a condition precedent to having the fair located in Chicago, the city and her citizens had to provide a fund of ten millions of dollars in aid of the enterprise, and produce satisfactory evidence that sites eligible and suitable were obtainable for the use of the fair. Needed assurances had also to be given that the State of Illinois, and Chicago, as the local site, would carry out and into effect the letter and spirit of the act of Congress. The faith of the State and of Chicago, as the local site, was, by their accredited representatives, pledged before the world to this, and thereupon Congress conferred upon our State the exceptional honor of locating the World's Columbian Exposition within its borders and in its chief city, thus committing to the citizens of Illinois the duty and obligation of providing for and conducting the enterprise in a manner suitable to the occasion and worthy of the nation.

The citizens of Chicago promptly provided by subscription for $5,000,000. They also, by every act that can bind the conscience and conduct of a people, pledged the city to raise $5,000,000 more, making the ten millions required. This was done, and had to be done before Congress would take final action in locating the Exposition.

In order to carry out and into effect the act of Congress, the Columbian Exposition was incorporated with a board of directors numbering 45. The members of that board represent subscriptions in aid of the Exposition to an amount above $5,000,000. Legislation by the State and by the city of Chicago was indispensable, in order to comply with the terms upon which the Exposition was located in Illinois. The essential legislation is embodied in the pending joint resolution and bill.

In the matter of selecting sites for the Exhibition, attention is called to the act of Congress (Sec. 5), which provides that "the National Commission be empowered in its discretion to accept for the purposes of the 'World's Columbian Exposition' such site as may be selected and offered, and such plans and specifications of buildings to be erected for such purpose at the expense of and tendered by the organization under the laws of Illinois, known as the World's Exposition." * * * *

The action taken under said section is disclosed in the proceedings of the directors, which, with the subsequent action of the National Commission, is herewith submitted:

CHICAGO, July 1, 1890.

To the World's Columbian Commission:

GENTLEMEN: At a meeting of the board of directors of the World's Columbian Exposition, held this day, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this board hereby adopts—subject to the concurrence of the authorities having jurisdiction thereof—the Lake Front and Jackson Park as the site for the location of the World's Columbian Exposition, it being the intention of the board to make as large a use as may be possible of the room now existing or that may hereafter be gained on the Lake Front, and use Jackson Park, so far as may be necessary, to provide adequate room and buildings for the Exposition.

Adopted July 1, 1890.

Very respectfully,

J. H. KINGWILL, Acting Secretary.

Approved: LYMAN J. GAGE, President.

On motion of Mr. Price, of Kansas, the commission then proceeded to the call of the roll by states, upon the order, viz.: The resolution of Mr. Martindale, of Indiana, as follows:

Resolved, That the site proposed by the president and directors of the Chicago Columbian Exposition for the holding of the World's Columbian Exposition be, and the same is, formally accepted by this commission, and that all questions about the title of said site and facilities of transportation, etc., etc., be referred to a committee of ten, to be appointed by the president of the commission, and said committee shall be directed to report at the next meeting of the commission.

The roll was called, and the resolution was adopted by a vote of 81 to 11.

Said act of Congress provides (section 6): "That the said commissioners shall allot space for exhibitors, prepare a classification of exhibits, determine the plan and scope of the exposition."

Touching the location of the exhibits inquired of by your honorable body, the directory call attention to the citation above.

It will be observed that the national commission is clothed with certain supervisory power, and is also charged with certain specific duties by the section quoted. Attention is called to this matter as bearing on the authority of the local board with reference to determining definitely and finally where exhibits shall be placed. The directory is informed that an impression has been created, as they believe by persons unfriendly to the exposition, that in the disposition of the exhibits some injustice is contemplated or may be done the agricultural interests of the country by divorcing that display from the main exhibit. The allegation or suggestion is unfounded and unjust to the directory. The fact is fully recognized that agriculture is one of the chief sources of our nation's prosperity and greatness, and is entitled to and must receive conspicuous prominence in the exposition. It must not be forgotten that the fair will be an entirety notwithstanding a dual site. It will be obvious to all on a moment's reflection that the knowledge and experience acquired in the past in allotting space and apportioning exhibits would not at this early date qualify the directors to state, with even approximate accuracy and detail, the precise location of buildings and exhibits; but the board can, and does, indicate its plan and purpose to so provide that there shall be no just ground on the part of any interest for even captious criticisms.

The directory is in conference with the State Board of Agriculture and has solicited their active aid and co-operation, and the plan of the directory with reference to exhibits so far as it is possible in advance to form one, has been presented to the committee of that board. It is inevitable that the statements presented must be general in terms. In common with their fellow citizens, the members of this board are deeply sensible of the importance of doing the fullest justice and affording ample opportunity of every industry and interest in the country, that in no other way, can success be deserved or achieved. They feel, and each of them feels, that in no small measure, the dignity and honor of the nation in matters of making the proposed exposition fit and worthy, are committed to the State and citizens of Illinois, and the directory have no ambition or wish but to so discharge their duties as to reflect honor on the State and city in redeeming their pledges to the nation and the world. The subjoined resolution and statement thereto appended, adopted by a unanimous vote of the board, is an expression of their desire and intention touching the exhibits:

Resolved, That it is the intention and purpose of this board, in so far as it may be able to do so, to locate the agricultural and stock exhibits of the World's Columbian Exposition in the same enclosure with the machinery, State and such other exhibits, as will render that portion of the Exposition at least equal in general interest and attractiveness to any other portion of the World's Fair, and to consist (with others) of such exhibits as the following:

1st. The agricultural display in all its divisions and ramifications, including the varied products of the soil, live stock and food products.

2d. Agricultural implements and machinery of every character and description.

3d. Machinery and power hall, with all its various groups, and extensive ramifications.

4th. Forestry, including the varieties of wood, and wood working machinery not placed in the preceding item.

5th. Railroad display. Railroad equipments including all fixed plants and rolling stock used in the construction and operation of a railroad.

6th. Hydraulics and pneumatics. Including all hydraulic and pneumatic machinery and motors, and things pertaining to those arts.

7th. Street railroads and tramways, and electric and other motive power for operating the same.

8th. An electric plant with power and appurtenances.

9th. Mills and milling machinery and devices pertaining to the art.

10th Printing in all its branches and ramifications; power presses, type-machines, automatic type-setting machines, etc., etc.

11th. Weaving, power and hand looms, and kindred devices and machines.

12th. Glassware and glass making, with the tools, implements, machinery, etc.

13th. Minerals and ores of all nations.

14th. Pottery exhibits, with the machinery and appliances for manufacture.

15th. Departments of telegraphy, telephony, phonographs, graphaphones, etc.

16th. Builders' hardware, tools, cutlery, etc.

17th. Military and sporting arms, weapons, explosives and enginery of war.

18th. Machine tools—wood, metal and stone.

19th. Apparatus and implements used in sewing and making clothing, laces and ornamental articles.

20th. Machinery for the manufacture of silk, including the removal of the fibre from the cocoon.

21st. Architecture, engineering, and things appertaining thereto.

22d. Cotton and woolen mills and fabrics thereof.

23d. Marine display.

We may add one of the cogent reasons for the use of the lake front. We have with us a permanent population of more than one million people. During the six months of the Fair, the great population of our business men, clerks, industrial classes, railroad operatives, and other employés, will find their time more severely taxed (in the care and entertainment of our visitors) than at any other period. Their opportunities for visiting that part of the exposition lying more remote from the center of the city, will not be at all what we could desire. It is also impracticable to keep open in the evening buildings much removed from the center. The lake front can be thus utilized in the evening. It should be made attractive and educational. To this point our own people and visiting strangers could and would come by the thousands to crown by a delightful evening the labors of the day.

Concerning the exhibits upon the lake front the board contemplate placing there the art building, which is designed to be a large structure, beautiful in architectural design and finish. There will be exhibited in this building, fine arts, oil paintings, water colors, engraving, statuary, etc.

2d. Decorative art building, suitable for an elaborate display of decorative art; jewelry display, such as diamonds, watches, gold and silver ornaments, clocks, bronzes, decorative embroideries and high art goods of all kinds.

3d. An electrical plant with electrical devices, illuminated fountains, etc.

4th. Turkish, Indian and Egyptian villages, etc.

5th. Government departmental exhibits, which would include exhibits from the state department, treasury department, war department, navy department, interior department, post-office department, department of justice, Smithsonian institute and national museum, and fish and fisheries department as stated above.

These are indicative of the line of exhibits intended for the lake front, but of course they do not and could not, in the nature of things, include any considerable part of the catalogue.

It is impossible to convey to the mind an adequate idea of the vastness, variety, number and the extent of the exhibits at each place. The fact that there will be not less than 40,000 or 50,000 exhibitors (there were 50,000 at the Paris exhibition) will present a more just conception of what may be seen at the exposition. The few arts mentioned in this reply will be further classified into divisions and sub-divisions, as will be the hundreds of arts, not enumerated herein. The directory could only hope, in replying to the resolution of inquiry, to make it clear, that under the plan they adopt, no injustice can be done to any interest, and to challenge attention to the fact, that their action in that behalf, is, and will be under the supervision of the national board. It would seem to be obvious that any departure from a broad policy, which shall do equal justice to all industries and interests would entail disaster upon the exposition, and reflect discredit, alike upon the directory and the national commission, and place the state of Illinois in a humiliating attitude before the world. Can higher or safer guarantees than these be given for the faithful discharge of the duties devolving upon all who are charged with the task of making the exposition a success? We think not.

Respectfully submitted,

LYMAN J. GAGE,
President.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

OF THE SPECIAL SESSION,

36TH GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

At a special session of the 36th General Assembly of the State of Illinois, begun and held at the capitol in the city of Springfield on Wednesday, the twenty-third day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety, pursuant to the following proclamation of the Governor:

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

SPRINGFIELD, June 13, A. D., 1890.

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States has passed "An act to provide for celebrating the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus by holding an international exhibition of arts, industries, manufactures and the products of the soil, mine and sea, in the city of Chicago, in the State of Illinois," said act being duly approved April 25, 1890, and said exhibition being designated in said act as the "World's Columbian Exposition;" and,

WHEREAS, Owing to the limited time provided in said act to prepare and inaugurate said World's Columbian Exposition, it is important that action on the part of the State of Illinois, in preparing for said World's Columbian Exposition, be taken at the earliest practicable date; and,

WHEREAS, It is considered by the Governor that an extraordinary occasion has arisen for the convening of the General Assembly in special session; now therefore, I, Joseph W. Fifer, Governor of the State of Illinois, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested by the Constitution, do by this public proclamation convene the General Assembly of the State of Illinois in special session, and hereby designate Wednesday, the 23d day of July, A. D. 1890, at 12 o'clock, noon, as the day upon which the General Assembly shall meet, and I do hereby summon each and every member of said General Assembly to convene in the State Capitol, at the city of Springfield, on the day and at the hour aforesaid, to consider and legislate upon the following subjects only:

First—The submission to the electors of the State, at the November election, A. D. 1890, of a proposition to amend the State Constitution, so as to authorize the city of Chicago to increase its bonded indebtedness to an extent not exceeding five million ($5,000,000) dollars, the proceeds thereof to be used in aid of said World's Columbian Exposition, authorized by said act of Congress.

Second—The passage of such legislation as may be necessary to authorize the use or occupancy of any public ground, park or area for the location of said World's Columbian Exposition as may now or hereafter belong to or be under the control of the State of Illinois, the city of Chicago, or the South Park commissioners, the West Chicago Park commissioners and the Lincoln Park commissioners of the city of Chicago, or either of said park commissioners respectively, and to authorize the issuance of park bonds for the extension or improvement of such public grounds for the use or in aid of said World's Columbian Exposition.

Third—To vest the said city of Chicago with the right, power and authority of eminent domain, to be exercised for purposes in behalf of said World's Columbian Exposition; such power and authority to cease on and after May 1, A. D. 1894.

Fourth—To make appropriation to meet the expenses of the special session of the General Assembly convened by this proclamation.

In witness whereof, I hereto set my hand, and cause the great seal of State to be affixed.

[SEAL.] Done at Springfield the day and year first above written.

A message from the Governor, by his private secretary, Mr. H. G. Reeves:

Mr. President: I am directed by the Governor to lay before the Senate the following communication:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, JULY, 23, 1890.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

You have assembled for the purpose of considering matters relating to the World's Columbian Exposition, to be held in the city of Chicago in 1893.

With unity of action, this exposition can be made the greatest the world has yet known, and its location by Congress at the great metropolis of our State, casts upon that city and the people of the commonwealth of Illinois a grave responsibility, a responsibility that I sometimes fear is not fully realized. Into the hands of our people has been committed in a large measure the success of this great enterprise. Illinois cannot afford to have it fail through any lack of interest on her part.

Chicago and the State will have the world's attention for the next three years and more, and should the fair prove a failure, by reason of any fault on their part, the fact will be quickly noted, not only by our own fellow countrymen but all the civilized nations of the world, and in that event the great International Exposition instead of being a benefit will prove an incalculable injury not only to the city of Chicago but to the entire State.

The people of Illinois have in the past proven equal to every emergency, and they will, I feel sure, prove equal to this, and adopt a wise, liberal and patriotic policy respecting the exposition; a policy that will justify the wisdom of Congress in locating it within our borders.

It was believed that without this special session to enact needed legislation the management would be crippled in their preparations and the success of the enterprise greatly endangered.

It is made necessary by the act of Congress providing for the exposition that the sum of ten million dollars be raised to be used in aid of the enterprise. About five millions of this amount has already been provided for by subscription, and it is believed that but little, if any more, can be raised by this means. The city of Chicago has, through its municipal authorities expressed a willingness to raise by general taxation the remaining five millions of the amount required to be raised by said act of Congress; but the indebtedness of the city being now up to the constitutional limit, and there being no funds in the treasury that can be appropriated to the purpose, it becomes necessary therefore to adopt an amendment to the constitution of the State, authorizing said municipality to increase its bonded indebtedness in the sum of $5,000,000, and also authorizing the proceeds of said bonds to be used for the benefit of said exposition. A resolution submitting an amendment of this character to the electors of the State for adoption or rejection is one of the subjects included in the call, under which you have assembled, and which will, I doubt not receive your careful and favorable consideration. If the enterprising and patriotic citizens of the city of Chicago desire to tax themselves in order to raise the five millions yet to be provided for, the rest of the State should not, and I believe will not, object.

The selection of a suitable site for the fair has been a question of great difficulty, and at the time the call convening you was issued, it was not known what location would be finally agreed upon. That part of the call relating to the site was, therefore, made general and it will be seen that you are empowered to pass such legislation as may be necessary to authorize the use of any public ground, park or area for the location of the exposition that may belong to or be under the control of the state of Illinois, the city of Chicago, or any one of the several boards of park commissioners of said city.

Just what legislation will be needed on this subject I am not fully advised any more than this, that it will no doubt become necessary for you to pass an act authorizing the use of some of the public grounds in the city of Chicago as a site for the fair. You should, it would seem, be willing to do what can be done in this direction to aid the management of the exposition, having always in view, of course, a due and careful regard for the rights of the general public.

It may or may not become necessary for the city of Chicago to exercise the power of eminent domain in aid of the exposition; and as to the necessity of this much will depend upon the site that is ultimately agreed upon. It might be well for you to vest the city of Chicago with this power as it may become necessary to exercise it in preparing for the exposition.

The expenses of this special session must be provided for, and you will, of course, make a necessary appropriation for that purpose.

In conclusion, gentlemen, I feel confident you will be able to complete your labors at an early day, and that you will do honor to our State by the passage of wise measures that will aid the exposition and promote the public welfare.

JOSEPH W. FIFER, Governor.

The foregoing message was then read by the Secretary.

Mr. Johns moved that all of the message, excepting such as refers to the appropriations for the expenses of this General Assembly, be referred to the committee on judiciary, and that the part referring to said appropriation be referred to the committee on appropriations,

Which motion prevailed.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

Mr. MacMillan presented a petition, which was read, to-wit:

To the Honorable Senators and Representatives of the 36th General Assembly of the State of Illinois:

The undersigned, taxpayers of the town of West Chicago, humbly petition your honorable body to so frame any law you pass at the special session for bonding or taxing the city of Chicago for the benefit of the stockholders of the Columbian Exposition, as to provide that no portion of said funds so raised by tax or the sale of bonds shall be expended over four miles from the center of population at Harrison and Throop streets, for the following reasons:

It is proposed by a few selfish speculators to locate the Columbian Exposition at Jackson Park, ten miles by any traveled highway from the center of population of the city of Chicago, and but four miles from the Indiana State line, and by so doing not only to rob the old towns of the city of Chicago of all the benefits to be derived from the World's fair, but to tax them to build up a rival business and railroad center which will lap over into the State of Indiana. Not only do these selfish speculators desire to tax the town of West Chicago, and expend the money so collected to injure the property taxed, but they are willing to so locate the Columbian Exposition as to make it a failure as an exposition, and where the transportation facilities must be so limited that visitors to the grounds will be swindled by speculators in transportation, and so bring disgrace upon the city of Chicago and the State of Illinois. Money collected by tax will be largely taken in West Chicago, from persons of moderate means, who own comfortable homes but cannot afford to pay this tax, and the added millions that will be taken by the city council to improve the street approaches to a swamp fair site. We appeal to your honorable body. Will it be just to tax our property to raise funds to be so expended as to injure our property, that a trust of real estate and transportation speculators may be benefited, and the tax assessment rolls of the State of Indiana increased?

E. V. COOKSEY,
J. H. WOOD,
J. C. MCMULLIN,
A. H. GRIFFITHS,
D. MCCLURE,
M. J. SCRAFFORD,
AND HUNDREDS OF OTHERS.

Mr. Hadley moved that the said petition be placed on file,

Which motion prevailed.

AN ACT in relation to the "World's Columbian Exposition."

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States has passed an act entitled "An act to provide for the celebrating the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America, by Christopher Columbus, by holding an international exhibition of art, industries, manufactures and the product of the mine and soil, in the city of Chicago, in the State of Illinois;" approved April 25, 1890, and,

WHEREAS, The people of the State of Illinois appreciate the honor conferred upon their State by the location of said international exhibition, now known as the "World's Columbian Exposition," within its limits, and are in sympathy with the objects and purposes of said exposition, and desirous of contributing to the success thereof by the adoption of legislation ancillary to the said act of congress aforesaid; now, therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly, That there shall be and is hereby granted to the authorities having the charge and management of said World's Columbian Exposition, the use and occupation of all lands, or right therein, of the State of Illinois, whether submerged or otherwise, within the present limits of the city of Chicago, or adjacent thereto, which may be designated and selected by said authorities as the site or sites for the holding of said World's Columbian Exposition. The use and occupation hereby granted shall not continue longer than one year after the close of said exposition. And the use of any submerged lands, which may be filled, or reclaimed under the provisions hereof, shall accrue to the city of Chicago, to be forever maintained as a public park, and when any part thereof is diverted to any other use, the title and possession to all of said lands shall revert to the State of Illinois.

§ 2. There is also hereby granted to the authorities having the charge and management of said World's Columbian Exposition for such term as may be necessary for the accomplishment of the objects thereof the use and enjoyment of any public grounds or park grounds and rights appurtenant thereto, the title to or control over which may be vested in the city of Chicago, the corporate authorities of the city of Chicago consenting thereto, with the right and authority to improve the same for the purposes of the said World's Columbian Exposition in such manner as to the said authorities shall seem necessary and expedient, and in case improvements of a permanent character enlarging said public grounds shall be made for the accommodation of said World's Columbian Exposition, all such enlargements shall, at the expiration of the term herein limited, remain a part of said public grounds without prejudice to any private rights therein as the same existed prior to the passage of this act: Provided, that the buildings erected upon said public grounds or any enlargement thereof may be removed and disposed of by the authorities erecting the same within one year from and after the close of said exposition, unless otherwise arranged and agreed between the corporate authorities of said city of Chicago and the authorities who erected the same; and if the said city of Chicago shall agree to purchase said buildings, said authorities shall not ask or obtain from said city for said buildings a sum greater than the actual cost of building the same. If any owners of any lands or lots abutting or fronting on any such public grounds, or park grounds, or adjacent thereto, shall have any private right, easement, interest or property in such public or park grounds, appurtenant to their lands or lots, or otherwise, or any right to have such public or park grounds remain open or vacant and free from encroachment, the Attorney General, or the State's Attorney of Cook county, may, at the request of the authorities having the charge and management of said World's Columbian Exposition, apply to the circuit or superior court of Cook county, or to any judge of either of said courts in vacation, by filing with the clerk of the court a petition in the name of the People of the State of Illinois, praying that the compensation to be paid for such right, interest, easement or property, or for any interference with or damage thereto, for the term hereinafter mentioned, may be ascertained by a jury. Such petition and all proceedings in relation thereto shall be, as nearly as may be, as prescribed by an act entitled "An act to provide for the exercise of the right of eminent domain," approved April 10, 1872. No private right, interest, easement or property shall be taken or condemned, as aforesaid, for a longer term than may be necessary for the accomplishment of the objects and purposes of the World's Columbian Exposition, such term not to exceed five years. The compensation for the same, when ascertained by a jury as aforesaid, shall be paid by the said authorities having the charge and management of said World's Columbian Exposition. Upon the expiration of the term for which such right, interest, easement or property shall have been taken or condemned, as aforesaid, the same shall immediately revert to the owners thereof or their privies in law or in estate.

§ 3. In case the site or sites for the holding of the said World's Columbian Exposition, as finally located and fixed by the authorities in charge thereof, shall include the whole or any part of any public park which is, or may be, under the control and management of park commissioners, then and in that event it shall be competent, and express authority for that purpose is hereby granted to the park commissioners having the control and management of such public park to allow the use of the same or any part thereof, for the purposes of said World's Columbian Exposition, upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the said park commissioners and the authorities having the management of said exposition.

§ 4. The said park commissioners in the charge of the public grounds, or any part thereof, designated and selected as the site of the whole or part of the said exposition by the authorities in charge thereof, shall have and are hereby invested with full power and authority in their discretion to issue and sell interest-bearing bonds to an amount not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars, the proceeds of said bonds so issued to be used and applied in improving the grounds under their control selected as aforesaid for the use of said exposition, and authority is hereby expressly granted to the park commissioners issuing said bonds to levy and collect a direct annual tax upon the property within their jurisdiction sufficient to pay the interest [illegible] bonds as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof, within twenty years from the date of issuing said bonds. All improvements made by the proceeds of said bonds shall become a part of the public property to be held and controlled by the park commissioners issuing said bonds. But the power herein granted shall not be exercised until the proposition to issue such bonds shall have been submitted to a vote of the legal voters of such park district, and receive a majority of the votes cast upon that proposition at such election. Public notice of the time and places for holding such election shall be given by the park commissioners of such district not less than twenty (20) days before the day appointed therefor, by publication in some newspaper of general circulation in said district, and by posting the same in at least ten of the most public places in said district, and the ballots shall read "For issuing the bonds" or "Against issuing the bonds." The said election shall be held and the ballots cast shall be counted, and the returns thereof be canvassed, by the same officers and in the same manner as in the case of election of county officers within said district.

§ 5. Inasmuch as it is important and necessary that preparation for .the holding of said World's Columbian Exposition should be proceeded with at once, it is therefore declared that an emergency exists, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

APPROVED August 5, 1890.
